

interiors®

INDIA

MAKEOVER MAGIC!

CW INTERIORS BRINGS TO YOU THE A-Z OF MAKEOVERS... STRAIGHT FROM TOP DESIGNERS.

ETHNIC EXUBERANCE

This home by Studio Wood is a marriage between two states.

SOAKING IT IN

This hotel in Bali is a peaceful abode amidst rice fields, mountains and beaches.

A RETREAT TO THE WOODS

This home in rural Maharashtra is an embodiment of rustic simplicity.

+ TREND ALERT: A WRAP UP OF THE IMPACT OF GST ON THE INTERIOR DESIGN INDUSTRY.

The living room has gothic influences in its design.

PHOTO COURTESY: DCA ARCHITECTS

LIVING ROOM

In this living room makeover project by Group DCA, the idea was to restructure the home to suit the growing needs of the family. “We wanted to design an eclectic abode for the residents in conjunction with their individual preferences and needs”, says Amit Aurora. Handcrafted and reclaimed wood furniture were accentuated by exclusive rugs, artifacts and accessories sourced from travels across India and abroad. Textures further accentuated the art pieces with strategic use of light and shadow. The space was opened out to incorporate more light into the premises, unlike before. An ornate medieval chandelier added to the décor of the living room. “Focusing on delivering design excellence and innovation in every material and element, we chose to ensure quality through time and project management. We were aiming at redefining the spaces by enhancing aesthetics and emotion”, said Rahul Bansal. Every element was designed in sync with the context and concept of the place.

Amit Aurora and Rahul Bansal,
Architects and Partners, DCA
Architects